

ENGLISH(202)
TUTOR MARKED ASSIGNMENT

1. Answer any one of the following questions in about 40-60 words.:

(B) Describe APJ Abdul Kalam's Third Vision for India and how as a nation we can be a global strength to reckon with

Answer:- APJ Abdul Kalam's THIRD VISION. India must stand up to the world. Because I believe that unless India stands up to the world, no one will respect us. Only strength respects strength. We must be strong not only as a military power but also as an economic power. Both must go hand-in-hand. My good fortune was to have worked with three great minds. Dr. Vikram Sarabhai, of the Dept. of Space, Professor Satish Dhawan, who succeeded him and Dr. Brahm Prakash, father of nuclear material. I was lucky to have worked with all three of them closely and consider this the great opportunity of my life.

2 Answer any one of the following questions in about 40-60 words.

(A) Recycling rubbish not only helps save money, it also helps the environment. In view of this, mention four advantages of recycling to justify your answer.

Answer:- Many countries encourage recycling and new technology allows more waste to be reused. Most of the world's rubbish can be reused-paper, metals, glass, and even some plastics.

Advantages of recycling ;

- i. Save energy
- ii. Save money
- iii. Bring people together
- iv. Protect eco system

3 Answer any one of the following questions in about 40-60 words.

(B) The 'wonder tree', Neem has agro-friendly and eco-friendly properties. Mention some ways by which these qualities of the Neem tree are reflected in the chapter, The Village Pharmacy.

Answer:- We have all seen neem trees growing near our houses, on roadsides, in parks, in gardens, in forests and even in our own courtyards These qualities of the neem tree make it very useful, healthy and beneficial for all of us. The neem tree is a store house of useful qualities. Every part of it can be used to cure so many diseases. Its use in natural pest control , medicinal remedies, and soil enrichment.

English (202)

SOLVED TUTOR MARKED ASSIGNMENT

(OCTOBER 2024)

4 Answer any one of the following questions in about 100-150 words.

(B) The story, My Elder Brother is a human saga of two brothers who are a contrast in personalities and opinions.

- i. Discuss the qualities of Valodya highlighted by the author.
- ii. Comment on the relationship that the two siblings shared in their childhood.
- iii. Describe the incident that brought about a change in the relationship

Answer:-

- i. Qualities of Valodya highlighted by the author are impulsiveness and enthusiasm and his large heartedness.
- ii. The two siblings shared the complex relationship.
- iii. The incident that brought about a change in the relationship was a significant disagreement over a family matter.

5. Answer any one of the following questions in about 100-150 words.

(B) The poetess Eileen Mathais has presented trees with human like traits. They have been picturesquely described with physical human qualities as well as emotional attributes. Describe in your own words the poetic parallel between the tall trees and human beings

Answer:- The poet tries to show a similarity between tall trees and empowered human beings eg. Human beings are strong , tall ,and powerfull with their foot rooted to the ground , that is. , they are down to earth . Like humans , tall trees also provide comfort and shelter to all.

6 Prepare any one project out of the following in about 500 words.

A) Reading is essential. It serves as a basic building block for learning. It is an important life skill as it opens doors for global citizenry. Reading a variety of texts like essays, biographies or journals is not only informative and strengthens skills of concentration and reasoning, but it also improves language and thereby helps in confidence building. Keeping in view these advantages, prepare a project on the multiple benefits of acquiring good reading skills for a Project Paper to be read on the occasion of World Book Day, the theme for which is, “Read....so you never feel alone!”

Answer:-

Project Paper: The Multiple Benefits of Acquiring Good Reading Skills

Introduction

Reading is more than a leisure activity; it is a foundational skill that significantly contributes to human development. As the cornerstone of education, reading provides the basis for acquiring knowledge, enhancing critical thinking, and fostering a deeper understanding of the world. In light of World Book Day, with its theme “Read...so you never feel alone,” this project paper explores the numerous benefits of acquiring good reading skills, emphasizing their importance in personal growth, societal participation, and global citizenship.

1. Reading as a Building Block for Learning

Reading is an essential skill that opens doors to vast amounts of knowledge and information. It is the primary method through which individuals learn about the world, whether through academic textbooks, scientific journals, or literary works. Engaging with a variety of texts enables readers to grasp complex ideas, synthesize information, and apply knowledge to real-life situations. This learning foundation is critical in today’s interconnected world, where knowledge and information drive progress.

2. Enhancing Concentration and Reasoning Skills

Reading requires sustained attention, which strengthens concentration and sharpens cognitive abilities. The act of reading involves active mental engagement, where the mind processes information, makes connections, and draws inferences. This cognitive exercise enhances reasoning skills, enabling individuals to think critically and solve problems more effectively. Strong concentration and reasoning skills are not only beneficial academically but also in everyday life, where complex decisions and critical thinking are frequently needed.

3. Language Improvement and Confidence Building

Good reading skills are closely tied to language development. Reading exposes individuals to new vocabulary, sentence structures, and writing styles, enriching their language abilities. This exposure improves communication skills, making individuals more articulate and expressive. Additionally, reading strengthens writing skills by providing models of effective communication. Improved language proficiency builds self-confidence, as those who can express themselves clearly and persuasively are better equipped to navigate social, professional, and academic environments.

4. Reading as a Gateway to Global Citizenship

In today's globalized world, reading acts as a gateway to understanding diverse cultures, perspectives, and experiences. Through reading texts from different cultures, readers broaden their horizons and develop empathy for people from various backgrounds. This global awareness is essential for fostering a sense of global citizenship, where individuals become informed, empathetic, and active participants in the global community. Reading bridges gaps of distance and difference, reminding us that we are all part of a shared human experience.

5. The Emotional and Psychological Benefits of Reading

Beyond intellectual benefits, reading offers profound emotional and psychological advantages. Books provide companionship and comfort, especially in times of loneliness or distress. The characters and stories in books often reflect our own experiences, struggles, and triumphs, making us feel understood and less alone. This connection reinforces the theme of World Book Day, "Read...so you never feel alone!" Reading also offers a form of escapism, allowing us to explore new worlds and possibilities, which can be particularly valuable during challenging times.

Conclusion

In conclusion, acquiring good reading skills is not only an educational tool but also key to personal and societal development. Reading enhances our ability to learn, reason, communicate, and connect with the world. It empowers us to become confident, informed, and empathetic individuals, capable of contributing meaningfully to the global community. As we celebrate World Book Day, let us recognize the numerous benefits of reading and commit to nurturing this essential skill in ourselves and others. In the pages of a book, we find knowledge, inspiration, and, most importantly, a sense of connection that ensures we never feel alone.